PRESENTATION OF THE COURSE AND GENERAL OBJECTIVES:

This course will give students an insight into major sporting events and the bidding process. Students will analyse mega events and their strategy for country and city development. Two major events in France; the Tour de France and the Women's Football world cup. The Tour de France is an annual international event and students will look at how this event has survived over 50 years, from a strategy and sustainability perspective. The Woman's Football World Cup occurs every 4 years in a different country - the students will look at the French bidding process from a project management perspective. The course will be built around case studies of major current sporting events and insight will be brought by major event organisers. The course will also look forward to the Paris Olympic Games – the project so far and what its legacy could be for France as a whole.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES :

AT THE END OF THE COURSE PARTICIPANTS

- Will be able to understand the roles and influences of important stake holders in major events
 - Will master the main steps in processing major event bids from a project management perspective
